VMI raises more than 86,000 Euro with Stelvio for Life

A team of 47 VMI colleagues from Epe and Leszno participated in the Stelvio for Life challenge this Saturday, September 3rd. With this, they raised over 86,000 Euros in the fight against cancer.

Each year, VMI participates in a challenging sportive event to raise money for charity. After 2 years of not being able to participate in such a fund raising event, we were very happy to be able to make a contribution to the almost 1.2 million Euros that were raised with the Stelvio for Life event. The money raised goes to cancer research for personalized, patient oriented treatment of cancer.

VMI runners, walkers and cyclers challenged the Stelvio in Northern Italy and climbed the 21 kilometers up hill. 24 cyclers participated in the XXL challenge, climbing the Stelvio twice from two different sides.
